

Product: Coir Cushions with Fabric Covers
Product Code: FV-CR-CC

We offer Fabricated Coir Cushions in required shapes, sizes, specifications coir quality, and fabric quality as per specific customer requirements. Coir fibers, the outer coating of skin that encircles the conch of coconut are transformed into sheets & are sprayed with natural latex thereafter these sheets are placed in an oven & finally pressed to obtain Rubberized coir pads. Once these pads are processed we convert the same into required cushions as per specific customer size requirements.

Density & Coir-Latex compositions are the main parameters on which the quality, life, and properties of coir cushion depend. Higher the Density and Latex composition better are the Coir Cushion properties and life whereas lower Density and Latex composition cause sagging and other quality issues.

In India, Coir product making is an important cottage industry. Indian coir products are exported to over 100 countries.
